Note: The Mandarin page is laid out exactly as the English. For 4: sì “So” It is pronounced like the ‘so’ in soot.

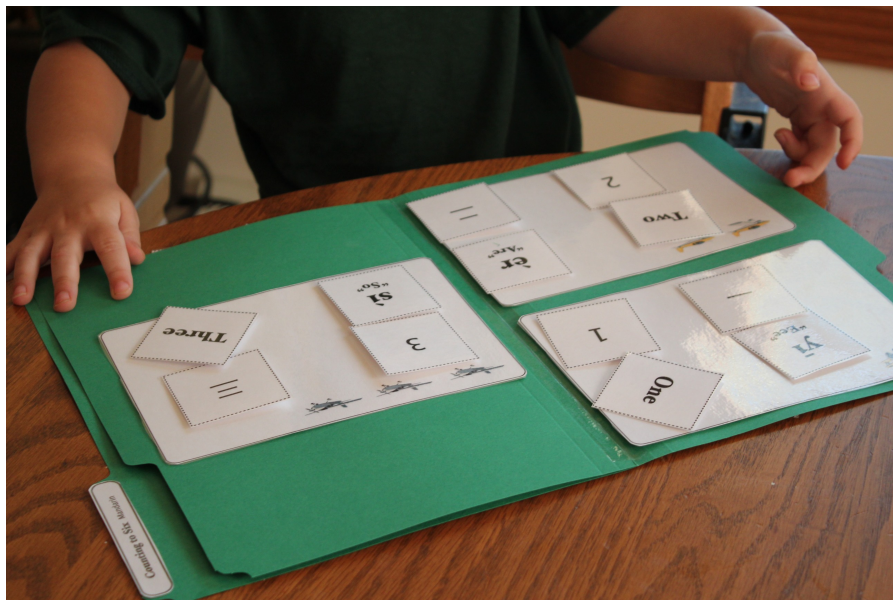

When putting your file folder game together you may find you need more space. We have found that cutting a folder down the fold then taping it on both sides in the middle of our game folder works great.

From page one use the large square to tape on the front of your folder to create a pocket for your pieces. The small “Counting to Six” goes on your file tab. This makes it easy to locate in your file folder box.

We recommend printing on card stock, cutting and then laminating with a Scotch Laminator for added durability.
